THE MARRIAGE OF FIGARO Mozart

A Concert Performance – Sung in English

Music Director: Brian Chapman | Accompanist: Judith Flint

Park Opera is back! During the last two years, which have been so difficult for all of us, we have missed singing together and sharing our love of music with our audiences. We are now so happy to be welcoming you back to our Covid secure Concert Tour of Mozart's famous masterpiece.

Our superb soloists and chorus are thrilled to present this comedy of mistaken identities, which takes place on the happy wedding day of Figaro and Susanna. Unfortunately, their master the Count has designs on Susanna, the page Cherubino's adolescent passion for the ladies is jeopardising his job, the housekeeper Marcellina is dragging up dirt from Figaro's past, and the Countess longs to regain her husband's love. Their plans keep going awry, but can Figaro, Susanna and the Countess shame the Count, save Cherubino from banishment, defeat Marcellina, and win back the Count's affections?

This joyous comedy is bursting with glorious hit tunes such as Figaro's 'Say goodbye now to pastime and play, lad' and Cherubino's 'Tell me, fair ladies', as well as a host of sublime ensembles. Our wonderful soloists include Debra Morley, Ian Henderson, Elizabeth Slade, Gregor Kowalski, Lucy Dickson, George Priestley, Lindsay Bramley and Jeremy Andrews.

Tickets for this special performance are sure to sell fast, so hurry to book your seats now. We look forward to seeing you at one of the beautiful local churches.
